

Building a more inclusive Nigeria

Leadership, partners and persons with disabilities are already at work. This independent demonstration presents eight documented chapters, a full-frame source-linked photo gallery and ideas for accessible digital support.

Leadership and a public mandate

President Bola Ahmed Tinubu appointed Ayuba Gufwan Executive Secretary of NCPWD on 6 August 2024. Reports distinguish his direct engagements from work carried out by representatives and partners. They do not imply endorsement of this demo.

01 MOBILITY	In Otukpo, NCPWD, Beautiful Gate and Senator Abba Moro collaborated on mobility-device distribution. Gufwan spoke at the event; no independently verified totals or outcomes are asserted. Source
02 LIVELIHOODS	Farming inputs were distributed through disability associations, with Lawrence Idemudia representing Gufwan. Published 7 July 2025; the report gives a conflicting June activity date. Source
03 EDUCATION	At UBEC on 26 September 2024, Gufwan advocated for inclusive education, assistive materials and support for girls with disabilities. This is advocacy; materials delivery is unverified. Source
04 CIVIC RIGHTS	NCPWD monitored Edo and Kwara elections on 21 September 2024. The report records participation alongside an access barrier in Edo and violence restricting voting in Kwara. Source
05 COMMUNITIES	Gufwan advocated for a Southeast office in Abia; Governor Alex Otti approved a facility. The report, published 19 January 2025, does not establish that the office is operational. Source
06 ENFORCEMENT	A 14 June 2025 report describes NCPWD and Nightstone Global training security personnel. It credits Gufwan with the keynote and explicitly names Ikem Ochigbelam as his representative. Source
07 HEALTH	The 18 December 2025 Karonmajiji outreach credits TLM, CHAI, CBM and Sightsavers. Lawrence Idemudia represented Gufwan. Wider medical provision was a plan; sustained health outcomes are unverified. Source
08 INSTITUTIONS	CBM engagement on 31 October 2024 proposed deeper cooperation. NOA engagement in December 2025 and the May 2026 NDMIS workshop support coordination; database deployment is unverified. Source

Five ideas to explore with AI

Accessibility; agriculture; employment; NDMIS and data quality; zonal coordination. These are proposals for human-led pilots. A fictional learner, expert consultant and intermediary sandbox demonstrates learning, practical feedback and follow-up.

A conversation about one co-designed pilot

I am Jerry Bannister Zachary, a statistician and a person with a disability. I would welcome the opportunity to contribute my technical skills. Participant safeguards, accessible delivery and evaluation would be agreed before a real pilot; no live NCPWD or NDMIS connection is assumed.
